

Alyson Hannigan and Alexis Denisof are Preggers...for reals.

Did I sound enough like Perez Hilton? I don't honestly know, I don't read his crap.

Alyson Hannigan and Alexis Denisof are pregnant with their first child. The baby is due in the spring. No word yet on the gender, but I'm sure a paparazzi will be trying to rummage through the hospital's medical waste trying to find the answers soon enough. Either that, or the couple will get paid by People magazine for pictures of the ultra-sound. Hell, People magazine might pay to do their own vaginal examination. Aren't they close to going that far? I think so.

Congrats to the happy couple.
