

Dexter Renewed for 2 More Seasons

Contributed by Matt

Good news for Julie Benz fans (and I guess Julie herself) - Showtime has decided to extend it's hit series (2.5 million viewers is considered a hit on Showtime apparently) Dexter for two more seasons.

I personally have not seen a single episode of Dexter, but I'm told it's very, very good. I believe Eric once told me that it's "the best show on television," and I would say that means quite a bit considering Eric watches a lot of TV.

Showtime has ordered 12 episodes each for Season 4 and 5 (they are currently in Season 3). The show was nominated for 5 Emmys (which is great, but the Emmys have a "best reality show" category, so what's it all really mean?). It also received a 2008 Peabody award.

News courtesy of Reuters/Hollywood Reporter.